EHS Training Compliance Made Easy

Ensuring your workplace EHS training meets applicable regulations, standards and best practices is a fundamental responsibility for EHS professionals. But compliance can quickly get out of hand, especially if you're trying to meet complex training requirements and needs while relying on paper-based systems or outdated legacy software to manage activities and records. Your people deserve timely, highly-engaging EHS training; and you deserve the tools to make delivering that training simple, efficient and most of all effective.

VelocityEHS Training & Learning is a purpose-built training software solution that gives EHS professionals an all-in-one system to coordinate and track your training activities, deliver interactive e-Learning content, easily document training compliance and help drive training program performance across your organization.

Our fully re-designed and intuitive user interface incorporates the latest UI design principles and e-Learning best practices to give your workers an immersive and engaging learning experience, while trainers and managers get versatile administrative controls and reporting features that simplify even your most complex training tasks.

The Training Agility You Need

With VelocityEHS, simplified training compliance is just the beginning. You get a comprehensive training management solution designed and built by e-Learning experts to take your organization beyond compliance and reach new levels of training program performance.

At its core is our Learning Management System (LMS), which streamlines and automates many of your day-to-day training tasks, saving you valuable time and effort. Features include versatile classroom management tools, flexible reporting and tracking, an expert-reviewed library of more than 80 EHS training courses, and mobile access that puts interactive training content and full system features in the palm of your hand, wherever and whenever you need it.
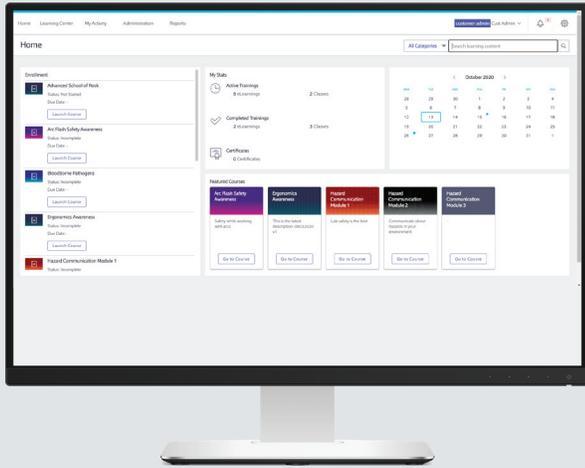

You owe it to yourself and your people to work with a solution that scales and adapts to meet your organization's changing training needs. You can quickly add and edit courses and classes, bulk-enroll workers based on user-configurable criteria, and directly import 3rd party SCORM training content to easily build and maintain your own custom training content library.
